THE THEATRES

POLI'S

One of the early successes of that master playright, Clyde Fitch, is "Lover's Lane." It is a quaint play, has quaint people in its very large cast, and tells a story of great heart interest. It will be given at Poli's all the week and it is not too much to assert that it will be put on in that exquisite manner so prevalent at all the per-formances by the All Star Stock Company at the Bridgeport theatre. And what is better, there is no real special "star" part. Every role stands out and is in itself of sufficient importance to demand interpretation by artists. It will be sure to fill the theatre of a very performance and one seetre at every performance, and one see-ing will not be enough. In "Lover's Lane" Miss Patty Allison, that dear Lane" Miss Patty Allison, that dear little lady that has, during this her first season in this city made a legion of friends, all of whom will be sure to be out in force to welcome her as "Simplicity Johnson," a role she herself created. Mr. Ince is very happily cast too, playing the part of the minister. Nothing but the very best sort of a performance will be given by this talented man, in this part. Miss Maof a performance will be given by this talented man, in this part. Miss Mabel Montgomery has also a fine part, and this new leading woman who has already found a warm place in the hearts of the vast army of "Poli Regulars" will be sure too of a hearty welcome and please her new friends. That old favorite, Miss Pringle, Mr. Williams, Mr. Siggins, Mr. Daly, Miss Brandt, and several new faces brought on from New York especially to play on from New York especially to play some of the important roles in the piece will surely please. As said before every part is a star part, and every player a star. A great performance is promised, and the readers have come to regard Poli promises as the whole truth.

JACKSON'S

PRIMROSE MINSTRELS.

Lovers of minstrelsy in a high class form will welcome the coming of George H. Primrose and his mammoth minstrel company, to Jackson's thea-tre, formerly Smith's, for one perform-ance this evening. The ever droll Primrose promises this year the most humorous and best minstrel festival humorous and best minstrel festival eyer pulled off on the American stage, fifty of the best known names in minstreisy are on the roster, including a big ollo of noval features, the entire production being staged by George Primrose, who has been the originator and producer of every novel effect brought out in minstrelsy in the past twenty years. Music is said to be one of the special features with Primrose this year. The vocal department has received the most careful attention by the management and will be made up the management and will be made up of two first tenors, two second tenors, two baritones and two basses, each of whom has had a musical training here and abroad. They will be assisted by a trained chorus of twelve volces, making in all eighteen volces who will render all the latest ballads. They will be accompanied by an orchestra of twenty picked musicians. "BILLY THE KID." "Billy, the Kid," the popular melo-drama, is one of the best examples of its kind of this season's production. The play has for its locale that portion of the great Southwest which lies near of the great Southwest which lies near the Mexican frontier. It tells a story of absorbing interest and is filled with situations, both highly dramatic and of that intensity demanded by the lovers of this class of performance. The central figure is that of a young man., forced to outlawry by his own father, yet there is an exceptionally well defined love interest and plenty of good comply situations. The play of good comedy situations. The play will come to Jackson's theatre the first three days of next week with the usual

Miss Montgomery Will Do Vaudeville

New Star Will Remain at Poli's, However, Until the Close of the Season.

Miss Mabel Montgomery, whose in troductory appearance with the Poli Stock Company was made as Marion Devereaux in "The House of a Thou-sand Candles," will continue as leading woman during the remainder of the current season.

Although new to Bridgeport theatre patrons, Miss Montgomery, who is a native of Brooklyn, has a number of relatives and friends in this city, and to the enrollment of the latter she is making daily augments, Miss Mont-gomery comes to this city with an gomery comes to this city with an established reputation, being well and favorably known as a star interpreter in various stock companies which have played in New York, Chicago, St. Louis, Memphis and other towns of importance. Her most gratifying per-formances have been during a year's engagement at Proctor's Fifth Avenue theatre, two trips in Belasco's "Zaza," "Zara" and a metropiltan run one in "Zar as "Sapho."

Among the classic presentations which have contributed to Miss Montgomery's success are the roles of Juliet, Rosalind, Magda, Camille and Du Barry; her experience includes also leading parts in "Mrs. Dane's Defence," "Dorothy Vernon of Haddon Hall," "Jane" and "When Knighthood Was in Flower."

Was in Flower." Miss Montgomery is eagerly anticipating a respite from the arduous re-quirements of stock intricacies prior to her engagement for the approaching eason, which opens September 20 This date marks the leading woman's departure from the legitimate into a vaudeville career. As headliner in the sketch "Chums," she will tour the Coast circuit, starting at Chicago and making fortnight stands in San Fran-cisco, Oakland, Los Angeles and other vestern cities.

Subsequently to her final appearance n local circles, Miss Montgomery will enjoy the interval preceding the au-tumn term at her recently completed villa on the shore front in Long Island.

THROUGH MINNESOTA Minneapolis, Aug. 2.—The new State law prohibiting the sale of paper cigar-ettets went into effect at midnight and from now on it will be illegal to put them on the market. Early last evening there was a shortage in popular brands at some cigar stores and clerks sent prices up higher than ordinarily charged at retail. Reports came in from other parts of the city that a fresh supply had arrived which caused a rush to those stores, which caused values to decline again.

At some stores, however, prices were kept at top notch, as it was thought that there would be little difficulty in getting rid of the stocks. Shortly after 10 o'clock five cent packages sold at eight for a quarter, 10 cent boxes at four for a quarter, 15 cent boxes at three for a quarter and 25 cent cigar-ettes at two for 35 cents. These prices remained stationary until midnight. More than a million cigarettes wer sold in Minneapolis Saturday.
